1. Aims

Futura Learning Partnership (the trust) is committed to ensuring that each pupil has expert support in embracing the challenges of creating a happy and successful life in modern Britain. This will involve providing them with knowledge that will enable them to make informed decisions about their wellbeing, health and relationships and to build their self-efficacy. Pupils can also put this knowledge into practice as they develop the capacity to make sound decisions when facing risks, challenges and complex contexts. Everyone faces difficult situations in their lives. The RSE curriculum can support young people to develop resilience, to know how and when to ask for help, and to know where to access support.

The aims of relationship and sex education (RSE) within Futura Learning Partnership (the trust) are to:

- Provide a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place
- Prepare pupils/students for puberty, and give them an understanding of sexual development and the importance of health and hygiene
- Help pupils/students develop feelings of self-respect, confidence and empathy
- Create a positive culture around issues of sexuality and relationships
- Teach pupils/students the correct vocabulary to describe themselves and their bodies

Sexual violence and sexual harassment is not acceptable, will never be tolerated in Futura Learning Partnership and is not an inevitable part of growing up. Behaviours such as those outlined in the Government's 'Review of sexual abuse in schools and colleges' will always be challenged with appropriate action taken. Sexual violence and sexual harassment can happen outside of the school and online; the trust school will act accordingly regardless of where the alleged abuse took place. All victims will be reassured, taken seriously, supported and kept safe. It is crucial staff have an understanding of the definitions below to develop a shared understanding of sexual violence and sexual harassment. This policy reflects the value that the trust places on RSE and its contribution to enabling young people to fulfil happy and safe relationships. Pupils are helped to understand safeguarding issues, how to raise a concern they may have about themselves, or a friend or peer; and learn to recognise and develop healthy and respectful relationships, avoiding stereotypes and promoting equality. Pupils are taught that sexual violence and sexual harassment is always wrong.

2. Statutory requirements

As a primary school we must provide relationships education to all pupils as per section 34 of the Children and Social work act 2017.

We do not have to follow the National Curriculum but we are expected to offer all pupils a curriculum that is similar to the National Curriculum including requirements to teach science which would include the elements of sex education contained in the science curriculum.

In teaching RSE, we are required by our funding agreements to have regard to guidance issued by the secretary of state as outlined in section 403 of the Education Act 1996.

At Chandag Primary School we teach RSE as set out in this policy.

3. Policy development

This policy has been developed in consultation with staff, pupils/students and parents/carers. The consultation and policy development process involved the following steps:

1. Futura Learning Partnership Policy – The trust Executive Leader for Safeguarding and a trust primary RSE specialist collated all relevant information including relevant national and local guidance. A template policy for all trust schools to adapt to the school context was then created.
2. Staff consultation – all school staff were given the opportunity to look at the policy and make recommendations
3. Parent/stakeholder consultation – parents and any interested parties were invited to give their views on the content of the policy
4. Pupil/student consultation – we investigated what exactly pupils/students want from their RSE
5. Ratification – once amendments were made, the policy was shared with governors.

4. Definition

RSE is about the emotional, social and cultural development of pupils/students, and involves learning about relationships, sexual health, sexuality, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity.

RSE involves a combination of sharing information, and exploring issues and values.

RSE is not about the promotion of sexual activity.

5. Curriculum

Our curriculum is set out as per Appendix A but we may need to adapt it as and when necessary.

We have developed the curriculum in consultation with parents, pupils and staff, taking into account the age, needs and feelings of pupils. If pupils ask questions outside the scope of this policy, teachers will respond in an appropriate manner so they are fully informed and don't seek answers online.

Primary sex education will focus on:

- Preparing boys and girls for the changes that adolescence brings
- How a baby is conceived and born

For more information about our curriculum, see our curriculum map in Appendix A.

6. Delivery of RSE

RSE is taught within the personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education curriculum. Biological aspects of RSE are taught within the science curriculum, and other aspects are included in religious education (RE).

Pupils also receive stand-alone sex education sessions delivered by a trained health professional.

Relationships education focuses on teaching the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships including:

- Families and people who care for me
- Caring friendships
- Respectful relationships
- Online relationships
- Being safe

For more information about our RSE curriculum, see Appendices A and B.

For more information about our RSE curriculum, see Appendices A and B.

We recognise that Relationships Education, RSE and Health Education must be accessible for all pupils. This is particularly important when planning teaching for pupils with special educational needs and disabilities who represent a large minority of pupils. High quality teaching that is differentiated and personalised will be the starting point to ensure accessibility. We are mindful of the preparing for adulthood outcomes as set out in the SEND code of practice, when teaching these subjects to those with SEND.

We are aware that some pupils are more vulnerable to exploitation, bullying and other issues due to the nature of their SEND. Relationships Education and RSE can also be particularly important subjects for some pupils; for example those with Social, Emotional and Mental Health needs or learning disabilities. Such factors are taken into consideration in designing and teaching these subjects.

These areas of learning are taught within the context of family life taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances (families can include single parent families, LGBT parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, foster parents/carers amongst other structures) along with reflecting sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them (for example: looked after children or young carers).

7. Roles and responsibilities

7.1 Governance

Approval of this policy is the responsibility of the trust Executive Leadership Team (Heads' Forum). The Local Governance Committees of each school will hold the Headteacher to account for the implementation of this policy.

7.2 Headteacher

The Headteacher is responsible for ensuring that RSE is taught consistently across each school, and for managing requests to withdraw pupils/students from non-statutory components of RSE (see section 7).

7.3 Staff

Staff are responsible for:

- Delivering RSE in a sensitive way
- Modelling positive attitudes to RSE
- Monitoring progress
- Responding to the needs of individual pupils/students
- Responding appropriately to pupil/students whose parents/carers wish them to be withdrawn from the non-statutory components of RSE

Staff do not have the right to opt out of teaching RSE. Staff who have concerns about teaching RSE are encouraged to discuss this with the Headteacher.

7.4 Pupils/Students

Pupils/students are expected to engage fully in RSE and, when discussing issues related to RSE, treat others with respect and sensitivity.

8. Parents'/Carers' rights to withdraw

Parents do not have the right to withdraw their children from relationships education.

Parents have the right to withdraw their children from the non-statutory components of sex education within RSE.

Requests for withdrawal should be put in writing using the form found in Appendix 3 of this policy and addressed to the Headteacher.

Alternative work will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from sex education.

9. Training

Staff are trained on the delivery of RSE as part of ongoing professional development.

The Headteacher will also invite visitors from outside the school, such as school nurses or sexual health professionals, to provide support and training to staff teaching RSE.

10. Monitoring arrangements

The delivery of RSE is monitored by Mrs Helen Muncer (PSHE Curriculum Leader) through:

Pupils/students' development in RSE is monitored by class teachers as part of our internal assessment systems.
